

PHAMBILI INTERFACE

Phambili Interface, acquired by Voltex in 2014, is the exclusive distributor of Weidmüller connectivity and interface products in the areas of Industrial Automation, Process Automation and Transportation. German engineered quality interface products include terminal blocks and accessories, heavy duty connectors, PCB connectors, right up to the innovative Push In type terminals.

Electronic products include analogue and digital signal conditioners, power supplied, surge protection, opto couplers and a wide range of relays.

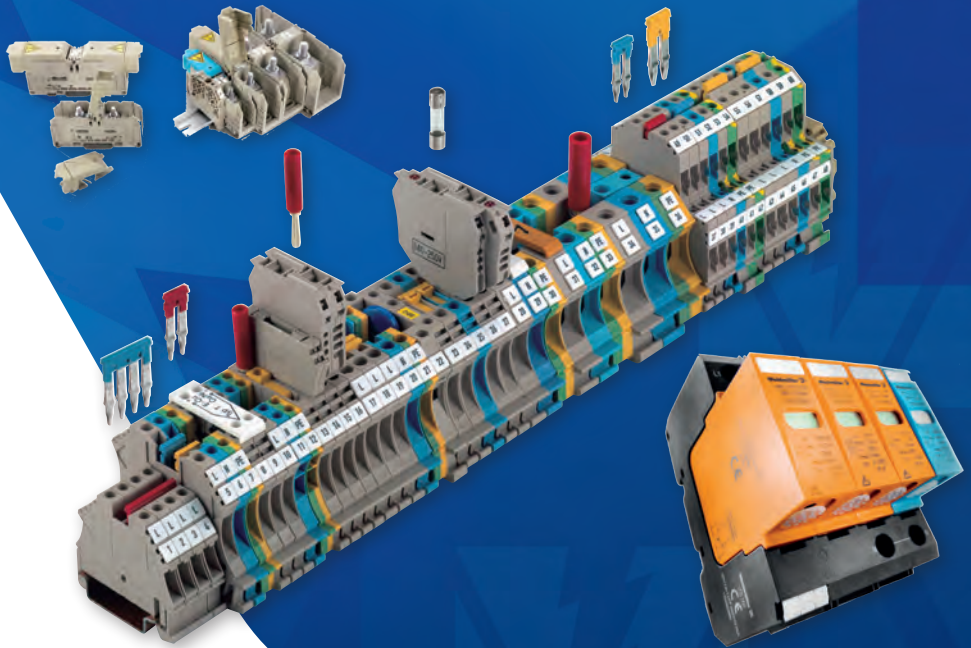

Installation products include printers and poloter systems for wire and cable markers including different markers, cable preparation tools and accessories.

Fieldbus components include Profibus DP and PA T pieces and cables and many SAI integrators and accessories for various bus systems.

PHAMBILI
Interface

Weidmüller

Industrial Ethernet products and accessories include media converters, managed and unmanaged switches and all cables and interface plugs.

Remote IO Products include converters for Profinet, Profibus DP Ethernet IP and Modbus plus all types of remote IO cards for analogue, digital, relays and power interfaces.

Phambili Interface also carry a range of enclosures including those for hazardous areas, which are available in a standard or custom assembly format.

Other third party products include Pfannenbergl cooling units and slotted trunking by Bocchoitti, Interflex conduit systems, Alfra cutting and punching tools and Shrinktek heat shrink products.